COMMITTEES AND AGENDA

RULES & PROCEDURE

Model United Nations (MUN) is a simulation of the United Nations where students represent different countries and debate global issues. The session begins with a roll call, followed by setting the agenda. Delegates then speak in the General Speakers' List to share their country's stance. This is followed by moderated and unmoderated caucuses for focused and informal discussions, respectively. Delegates draft and present working papers, which can become draft resolutions. After debate and possible amendments, the committee votes on the resolution. Basic rules include maintaining formal decorum, speaking in third person, using diplomatic language, raising placards for recognition, avoiding cross-talk, and following the Chair's instructions. Respectful and active participation, along with proper country representation, is essential.

Delegates are expected to wear formal or Western business attire while attending the UNGA and IP committees. Indian formal attire is appropriate for the AIPPM committee. Casual or informal clothing is strictly not permitted.
